Morrow Assisted Living will regularly observe Resident's health condition to identify and help respond to various needs for services offered. Any personal assistance and care is based upon the Resident Assessment performed by licensed nursing staff. The Resident Assessment is completed prior to admission, at least annually, and with a change of condition of the Resident. Please also review our Admission and Retention Criteria for Residential Care Apartment Complex (RCAC) living.

From the Resident Assessment, a Level of Care Determination will be made. The Determination addresses many areas of physical, health, nutrition, social, sensory, and behavioral functioning to identify where assistance is needed. A point system is applied to these functional areas to determine which Level of Care is appropriate. Morrow Assisted Living offers the following personal care service levels:
